Sally Clarkson is the mother of four wholehearted children, a popular conference speaker, and the author of numerous books and articles on motherhood. She has homeschooled all four of her children (now 25, 23, 20 and 14) from the beginning. Sally has ministered to families and mothers for over two decades, and since 1994 through Whole Heart Ministries, a Christian home and parenting ministry she founded with her husband, Clay. Sally also ministers regularly to a growing online and international community of Christian mothers and women through her blogs, I Take Joy (itakejoy.com), and Mom Heart (momheart.com). Her newest book, Dancing with My Father, releases January 19. She is also working on, The Mom Heart, which will be a core book of Mom Heart Ministry's small groups. ♥

Don't miss our 13th annual gathering of wholehearted mothers—a ray of light in the gray of winter since 1998. We'll mark two ministry milestones this year: 1) our first official Mom Heart Conference, and 2) the release of my new book on living a life of joy in the Lord. It will be such a joy for me to share with you how you can be renewed in your habits, heart, home, and hope so you can live joyfully every day. You'll love my special friends and guest speakers—Julie Hiramine in CO/CA, Elizabeth Smith in TX, and Sandra Maddox in NC—and my lovely daughter, Sarah, at all four events. It will be a weekend full of good fellowship, teaching, worship, and more. Join us! ♥ Sally
